Central Railroad Plans Reduction in Wages

UNSKILLED MEN TO BE AFFECTED BY PROPOSED CUT

Step Declared Absolute Necessity for Continuance of Operations on Sound Financial Basis.

OFFICERS NEGOTIATING WITH LABOR CRAFTS

All-Day Conference Over Wage Reductions Held in Nashville by Men and the N. C. & St. L.

Taking the position that a reduction in the wages of unskilled employees is an absolute necessity in order that the company may continue operations on a sound financial basis, officials of the Central of Georgia railroad have started negotiations with this class of workmen to put the decrease into effect at the earliest possible date and a definite decision is expected to be reached during the next three days, according to a statement given by L. A. Downs, vice president and general manager of the road.

It became known here late in the day that the railroad had been contemplating making reductions in the wages of its unskilled employees for some time, and that negotiations had been quietly progressing. Atlanta officials referred the matter of making an official announcement to Mr. Downs.

"As the situation now stands, I am unable to give out much for publication, as the negotiation between the railroad and the various interested crafts have not reached a stage where it would be advisable to make a definite announcement," said Vice President Downs when called over long distance by The Constitution relative to the information received here.

Experts predict a boom.

"I am expecting important developments during the next few days and at the proper time a full report will be given to the public concerning our transactions."

Both President Winburn and J. G. Corbett, assistant general manager of the road, referred questions concerning the proposed reductions to the general manager, whom they said had complete charge of the negotiations. It could not be learned what percentage of reduction in wages was being asked by the railroad.

The Central of Georgia has been suffering with practically all of the railroads of the country, as the result of a drop in business," said a prominent Atlanta official of the company, "and there is only one thing to do in order that the road may continue operating on a sound financial basis—that is to reduce wages."

"For a number of months the company has been paying wages with money which should have been used in making general improvements, and providing new equipment. It should be readily understood that no railroad can stand up under such a program, and we feel that something must be done immediately to relieve the present conditions," he concluded.

Conferees and labor officials of the railroad and labor crafts will be held at Savannah Tuesday, it was stated.

No Agreement Reached.

Nashville, Tenn., March 21.—No definite agreement was reached at the all-day conference for the purpose of considering a reduction of the basic rate of pay here today between the unskilled laborers and the management of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad.

GOVERNMENT WILL DEFEND LEGALITY OF NEWLANDS ACT

District Attorney Ordered to Appear at A. B. & A. Hearing in Atlanta Tuesday Afternoon.

BUGG NOT INSTRUCTED TO APPEAR IN CHICAGO

Order Did Not Affect Receiver of A. B. & A. He Claims in Statement Issued Monday.

With interest in the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad strike situation centered on hearings before the labor board in Chicago and Judge Samuel L. Sibley in this city, the most important developments Monday night were the announcement that District Attorney Harry Hooper Alexander had received instructions from Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty to appear to day at the hearing here to defend the constitutionality of the Newlands act, and the denial of Receiver B. L. Bugg that he had been ordered to appear before the wage board.

In addition to these developments, officials of the A. B. & A. announced a complete local freight service would be in effect through out the system today, schedules for Waycross, the one branch not being served Monday, having been arranged Monday night.

Through Freight Service.

W. W. Croxton, passenger traffic manager, stated that the local freight service of the railroad would be resumed during the next few days, and that the road was rapidly assuming normal operating conditions.

Many of the telegraph operators and agents who struck at noon, March 5, when all of the federated crafts on the railroad, some fourteen in number, walked out without previous notice, have returned to duty, some of whom have been accepted and others were not accepted because their positions had been previously filled," said Mr. Croxton.

"Under normal conditions, the A. B. & A. railway operates daily passenger service over every part of its system, some 650 miles in length. The service now in effect is one passenger train in each direction over the entire system, with triple daily service between Brunswick and Thalmann, and normal local freight service covering every station."

Colonel Bugg's Position.

Following the strike of A. B. & A. employees, the labor board "ordered the receiver to appear before it Monday afternoon, according to a dispatch from Chicago, "to explain the wage reduction and the strike." In reply to this, Colonel Bugg stated that the notice of the board "did not ask or require the appearance of any one representing the receiver."

"The notice from the labor board, after calling attention to the law and to the notice issued by the receiver reducing the wages and to the fact that the organized employees continue work on or about March 1," he said, "reads as follows:

Resolved, That this board sets Monday, March 21, 3 o'clock P. M., as the date of a hearing to determine whether, in the opinion of this board, such violation of the law has occurred, and, further, That the secretary notify the said receiver and the chief of executives of the organizations named, of the date of the hearing and furnish each of them with a copy of this resolution."

"The answer of the receiver was duly filed," continued Colonel Bugg, "giving the reasons why the action taken in reducing wages did not constitute any violation of the law or any order of the wage board."

STATE RAIL BOARD EMPLOYS EXPERT ON GAS VALUATION

Professor of Engineering at University of Michigan to Begin Appraisal of Properties in April.

ALL PUBLIC UTILITIES MUST SHOW FIGURES

Prices of Coal and Oil on Hand and Contracted for to Be Probed—Pay Salary From Contingent Fund.

Following its policy of a rigid investigation of the Georgia Railway and Power company and the conditions under which it operates, the state railroad commission announced Monday afternoon arrangements had just been completed with Henry Earle Riggs, professor of engineering of the University of Michigan and of national reputation, to make a valuation of the gas properties of the corporation early in April for use in further consideration of rates in this city and vicinity.

This valuation of the property will be the first made in recent years by an expert under the jurisdiction of the commission, and is considered of great importance by officials of the board in reaching an accurate and impartial decision, it is stated. Expenses of the valuation will be paid from the contingent fund of the commission.

The commission's latest action follows closely on its refusal ten days ago to reopen the Georgia Railway and Power company rate case, because no grounds were shown by the petitioners, why the rates should be lowered, and the subsequent dispatch of E. M. Price, chief expert of the board, to the coal fields of Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee, to secure accurate information on contracts open to public utilities.

When the board refused to reopen the case, it was made plain that the requests would be held for consideration at a later date, when the reports of Mr. Price, accountants auditing the books of the corporation, would be available.

BANKERS GATHER IN JOINT MEETING

Georgia Bankers' and Country Bankers' Associations Begin Three-Day Conference in Macon Tuesday.

Macon, Ga., March 21.—(Special.) Several hundred Georgia bankers will gather here tomorrow for the opening of the joint annual convention of the Georgia Bankers' Association and the Country Bankers' Association of Georgia.

This meeting, which will be in session for three days, will be unique in that it is the first time the two organizations have held their yearly gatherings jointly and officials of the two bodies have declared that the action this year is in no sense intended as a precedent for the future.

The joint convention idea has been adopted because of the pressing need for full and careful consideration of the financial problems which face business in the state this year. With the shrinkage in capital and credit which was inevitable during the recent period of currency deflation and business depression, many business undertakings will look to their bankers for advice and help to carry them through this year's undertakings, and the bankers feel that frank discussion among themselves is essential for the determining of a uniform policy.

The first session of the convention will be a banquet at the Hotel Dempsey on Tuesday evening. W. B. Thompson, of New Orleans, will be the principal speaker and the topic for discussion will be "Better Price for the Next Cotton Crop."

Jesse B. Hart, president of the Macon Clearing House association, will be toastmaster.

FIRST HEAT VICTIM Unseasonable Heat in Boston Puts Man in Hospital.

Boston, March 21.—The warmest March day ever recorded in this section of the country was enjoyed Monday, the first day of spring, and the first heat prostration victim of 1921 was taken to the city hospital.

Jeremiah Mahoney, 45, the victim, also gained the distinction of being the first person to succumb to the heat on any March 21 since the first hospital here began to keep records. He collapsed while standing on the rear platform of a trolley.

At the top of the "heat wave" the official temperature was 83.

NO RUSSIAN TRADE UNDER BOLSHEVIKS DECLARES HOOVER

U. S. Cannot Resume Commerce Relations While Reds Rule, Says Secretary of Commerce.

ADMINISTRATION VIEW
SEEN IN STATEMENT

Hughes Known to Be Considering Russian Situation With Similar Opinion to Hoover's.

BY JOHN GLENNON.

United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, March 21.—The statement of Secretary of Commerce Hoover Monday that resumption of trade with bolshevik Russia is impossible, is taken not only as an expression of the view of the administration, but as an indication of the present attitude of the government, and the scope of the activities he intends to undertake.

Hoover said trade with Russia cannot start so long as the bolsheviks are in control. Trade, of course, is a matter for the consideration of the secretary of commerce. But heretofore, the scope of the activities he intends to undertake.

Hughes is silent.

So far, Secretary of State Hughes has been silent on the subject, and Hoover's comment was without state department knowledge. Such a departure in recent years might have been cause for a sensation.

Hughes recently, however, has had the Russian trade situation under consideration, as well as the political aspects of relations. And it can be stated that Hoover's opinion conforms to that of the state department, and while it is not an official pronouncement of American policy, it is a definite index of what that policy will be.

Hoover already has interested himself in a variety of subjects, indicative of his intention of developing a "real" department of commerce. He announced he will appoint a committee of shipping and trade experts to advise of establishment of trade routes. The merchant marine act of 1920 provided this very thing; but it had been supposed the shipping board would have the task.

Committee Named.

Hoover has named, also, a committee of business men to help in creating co-operation between business and the government. He has interested himself in transportation—rail, inland waterway and maritime—on the theory that transportation vitally affects commerce. He has some very definite ideas on the functions of the shipping board and the interstate commerce commission and has presented them at cabinet meetings.

CHURCHES BEATEN IN FIGHT TO BAR GASOLINE STATION

Council Overrides Veto, 21 to 10—Move to Close All Gas Stands on Sundays Tabled.

BUSINESS FIRMS URGE DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN

Ordinance to Abolish the Park, Cemetery, Hospital and Electrical Control Boards Referred.

By the vote of 21 to 10, city council, Monday afternoon, overrode the mayor's veto of a resolution passed by that body two weeks ago, permitting the installation of a gasoline filling station at Gordon street and Lucile avenue.

The location is in close proximity to three West End churches, and the mayor acted in response to strong protests by delegations representing the congregations, who declared that the filling station would be a nuisance on account of the noise of running motors that would disturb church services.

Council tabled the resolution of Councilman Fred C. Woodall to close on Sunday all gasoline filling stations in the city, and referred to the ordinance committee a joint ordinance by Woodall and Sims to abolish the park board, the cemetery commission, the board of trustees of Grady hospital and the board of electrical control.

Daylight Savings.

Steps toward a return to daylight saving were taken when a petition signed by a large number of business firms asking that the clock be advanced one hour, was referred to the ordinance committee. The petition requested that on the last Sunday in March the time be run ahead one hour and remain so until the last Sunday in October.

A resolution by Councilman Sam Wardlaw, asking for the employment of twenty-five additional men on the police force, was referred to the police committee.

Council appropriated the sum of $10,000 to the city planning commission, and voted $3,000 to establish a narcotic dispensary and clinic in the basement at city hall.

The final preliminary steps incident to the filing of a petition seeking validation of the bond issue were accomplished Monday afternoon, when council officially declared the vote as cast in the bond election.

City Attorney Mayson will file a petition in the Fulton superior court seeking validation of the bond issue. The petition is to be served through newspaper advertisements for 30 days, putting the public on notice of the day the court will consider the petition.

Belknap was unanimously elected a member of the board of park commissioners from the police force, and resigned from the park board to accept this post.

Council formally ratified the appointment of the bond commission to supervise the expenditure of the bond issue money of $5,850,000.

Plans Discussed For Establishing Public Gas Plant

Decatur, Kirkwood and East Lake Are Represented on Committee.

A movement to establish a publicly owned gas plant to jointly serve the towns of Decatur, Kirkwood and East Lake was launched Monday night when the city officials of East Lake entertained the city officials of Kirkwood and Decatur, and the commissioner of roads and revenues of DeKalb county, at a dinner at the East Lake Country club.

The situation will be canvassed by a committee of three composed of one representative from each town, which was appointed at the meeting. Decatur is represented on the committee by City Manager P. P. Pilcher. Kirkwood's representative is W. B. Hardman, and East Lake is represented by H. Clay Moore.

American Soldiers Killed in Accident On German Railroad

Coblenz, March 21.—Privates Thomas Hansenkrat, of Strasburg, Ohio, and Lawrence Murphy, of El Paso, Texas, of the American army of occupation, were killed today when the Cologne express struck a truck which they were driving at Welsenthurm. Private Lawrence Baker, the third man in the truck, was seriously injured.

The bodies of Hansenkrat and Murphy will be returned to the United States.

CONGRESS TO PASS FORDNEY MEASURE AT EXTRA SESSION

Tariff Bill Wilson Vetoes to Be First Important Legislation When Sessions Reconvene.

ACTION IS ANSWER TO HARDING REQUEST

President Sought Protective Measure for Farmers in Order to Avoid Embargo.

Washington, March 21.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill, precisely as vetoed by former President Wilson, will be rushed through congress as the first important legislation of the extra session.

According to the request of President Harding for passage of a measure designed to help the farmers, crying for protection against foreign competition, republican members of the house ways and means committee turned about today and voted to revive the Fordney bill after agreeing almost unanimously a week ago not to consider any emergency legislation ahead of a permanent tariff and revenue revision.

Senators Penrose, Smoot and McCumber, conferees from the senate finance committee, agreed to the new program, which, it was explained, meets the approval of the president.

Senator Penrose expressed the belief that the "emergency measure would be in the hands of Mr. Harding within ten days after the convening of the special session April 11.

Several members of the house committee, including Chairman Fordney and Representatives Longworth and Green, conferred with Senator Penrose, who heads the senate committee, after the former committee had reported its agreement. From this conference came the prediction that the measure would be rushed through the house under a special rule and through the senate, possibly under limitation of debate as enforced by cloture.

Six Months' Limitation.

The new Fordney bill will be presented with a six months' limitation, but its provisions will expire at an earlier date, should the permanent bill be enacted before expiration of the six months' period.

The house ways and means committee at the end of an all-day wrangle apparently was in the utmost harmony. Calling in newspaper men at the close of the session, with members sitting around a big table in their shirt sleeves, Chairman Fordney set forth the fiscal program, with everybody expressing approval.

After disposing of the emergency measure in the first few days of the extra session, the house will take up and pass the anti-dumping bill, which will be followed by the allied measure fixing an American valuation on goods which must pay ad valorem duty.

Then Permanent Tariff.

Then will come the permanent tariff, which republican leaders hope will be broad enough to satisfy all interests in all sections demanding an upward revision. The actual work of framing it will begin tomorrow, hearings having been concluded at the last session.

While the house is at work on the tariff the senate finance committee will consider revenue revisions. And its printed records will be available to the ways and means committee, which will write the bill. In this way Mr. Fordney predicted congress would work at high speed, in the hope of earning a summer recess. The house would be considering revenue while the tariff was still before the senate.

All differences have been ironed out," said Chairman Fordney, "and we now have a definite working plan. It is to be assumed that it meets the approval of the president."

WOMEN PLANNING TO AID IN FIGHT WAGED BY BOYKIN

Leading Organizations Anxious to Help in Every Way Possible to End Alleged Corruption.

CALLING "BEGINNING OF GREAT AWAKENING"

Mrs. Murray Hubbard Tells of Needs of Co-operation of All Organizations for City's Good.

The women of Atlanta, through the scores of women's organizations in the city, will focus their attention at once on the problem of ferreting out and obliterating the alleged corruption in the city's affairs according to officials of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, who sponsored the mass meeting last Saturday to hear an address by Solicitor John A. Boykin.

Having called the meeting last Saturday in order to give the women of Atlanta an opportunity to hear the solicitor present his case of "law and order by the people against log-rolling politics," the league has already been promised support by several of the city's most powerful organizations and asks that all other bodies wishing to join in the fight for a "cleaner and better Atlanta" give their co-operation.

Unified Action Promised.

The meeting Saturday afternoon, according to Mrs. Murray Hubbard, vice president of the Atlanta league, served to crystallize opinion of Atlanta women and a great majority of the citizens generally toward cleaning up the city. The officials of the league of women voters and the officials of other organizations who have already volunteered their support and the support of the bodies that head, say that this was undoubtedly the beginning of a unified action by Atlanta.

Mrs. Hubbard, acting for the league, stated that that organization was not bound by partisanship or prejudice, and desired, through co-operation, to bring about industrial and religious bodies, to arrest the corrupting influence.

THOMPSON ARREST EXPECTED TODAY

Reward of $500 Offered by the State and $200 by the Family of Ernest Brown.

Announcement by Governor Hugh M. Dorsey that he would offer a reward of $500 for the capture of Homer Thompson, indicted with Eula Putnam for the murder of Ernest Brown, was made last Tuesday night, when the departure of several deputies with the expectation that the fugitive would be lodged in the DeKalb county jail during the next twenty-four hours, were the chief developments in the case Monday night.

Whether Eula Putnam, who was arrested and placed in jail Friday in connection with the murder, has told officials of Thompson's whereabouts, Sheriff J. A. McCurdy refused to disclose, but he stated that, although he was unable for various reasons, to say that the man had been definitely located, he felt sure that his arrest would be made Tuesday.

Ex-Congressman William Schley Howard has been employed by the Brown family to assist Solicitor General J. Branch in the prosecution of Thompson and the Putnam woman, and it is understood he has succeeded in locating the fugitive. Unless there is some radical change in the present relation of the case toward Eula Putnam, it has been inferred she will not be prosecuted on the indictment of murder, however.

The woman has made a complete statement in regard to the killing of Brown, and it is understood subsequent developments and evidence have verified the most of it. She is being held without bond and is expected to be of further assistance to the state in the prosecution of the case, since she had declared Thompson shot Brown without any cause.

In addition to the reward offered by Governor Dorsey, the Brown family has offered $200 for the apprehension of Thompson, bringing the total up to $700.

FIGHT ON POOLE AND AIDES LOST BY 14 TO 11 VOTE

Resolution Asked Police Board to Act At Once, But Council Merely Refers Matter to Body.

COMMITTEE TO PROBE BUNCO CHARGES NAMED

Councilman Sims Made Head of Investigators. Maddox Forces Name of Man to Oppose Barrett.

Fourteen members of city council rode over to the police board and eleven members Monday afternoon and carried a motion to refer without recommendation to the police board, members of whom are under fire with the detectives, a request that it suspend Detective Chief Poole and Detective Shaw Waggoner, pending the outcome of a councilmanic investigation ordered at the meeting to probe the charges of Solicitor John A. Boykin against the detective department.

Early in the session Councilman W. A. Sims introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a special committee with power to subpoena witnesses and conduct an inquiry into the charges of the solicitor. Without discussion the paper was adopted and the mayor pro tem appointed as members of the committee Councilman Sims, chairman, Alderman Harry Goodhart, Councilman R. A. Gordon, Councilman W. Pat Anderson and Councilman J. A. Couch.

SUSPENSION IS REQUESTED.

With the committee created and ready to start its investigation, a resolution introduced by Goodhart requesting the police board to suspend Poole, Shaw and Waggoner until the charges have been settled at the hearings of the probe body.

Councilman J. R. Nutting, member of a special committee which has exonerated the detective department last year of charges of inefficiency, following an investigation lasting six days, opened opposition to the alderman's measure on the ground that council has no business interfering with the board, and moved that the resolution be simply referred to the board, and let that body be free and unhampered to do as it chooses regarding the detectives.

As a substitute, Councilman Nutting introduced a resolution referring the resolution to the board and the board be asked to act in accordance with its request.

The newly named chairman of the probe committee joined in support of the substitute, declaring that the charges of the solicitor are no more than the chief and the two lieutenants ought to be stripped of their badges while the charges are pending against them.

SUPPORTS POOLE.

Mr. Nutting made an impassioned reply. He said that he wanted it to go out to the world that he has absolute confidence in the personal integrity and efficiency of Lamar Poole. The hearing last year inspired him with confidence in the chief, he said.

"His statement before the committee carried on its face absolute sincerity," he declared, "and it would go out to the world that he has absolute confidence in the personal integrity and efficiency of Lamar Poole. The hearing last year inspired him with confidence in the chief, he said."

POLES TO APPEAL PLEBISCITE VOTE

May Turn to League for Aid if Official Count Confirms German Claims of Victory.

Washington, March 21.—Polish forces here expressed the opinion today that Poland might appeal to the council of the ambassadors and to the league of nations for aid in the result of the Upper Silesian plebiscite, should the official count confirm the German claims of victory. They are so far without any news of the official decision.

Should an appeal be made to the league of nations, it was said, that an impartial tribunal might be asked to review the plebiscite. In such a case, it was suggested that a representative of the United States might be asked to serve, as was done by the league in the Aland island dispute.

It became known today that last November request was made of the state department by the Polish government through the legation in Washington to observe the alleged illegal means which, it was charged, Germany was resorting to in order to further her designs upon the territory.

Note to America.
In a note to the state department of November 8, 1920, the Polish government called for the Polish government to the powerful means of defense and defense to defeat the purposes of the plebiscite, which the German government was organizing.

"It is of the utmost value," it was further represented, "that the United States government should realize how important looms before the world the question of whether Upper Silesia will be allowed to remain attached to Germany, or will be allowed to remain a part of the Polish state."

"On that question hinges entirely the future of German militarism, for without Upper Silesia Germany never will be able to undertake her revenge."

The Polish government considers it necessary to represent this situation to the United States, that the peace of Europe will greatly depend on the issue which the present developments are allowed to take by those who are called upon to insure to the world a just and peaceful existence based on those principles which America was first to lay down in obtaining peace for the world."

Second Note.
The Polish government furnished the state department with documentary evidence of the abuses which it claimed the German government was practicing in the efforts to bring about a favorable result to Germany in the plebiscite.

Among the alleged abuses there were recalled today the refusal of the state department to the informal request of the German government that the legation in Upper Silesia residing in America should be permitted to leave the United States as long as the technical state of war with Germany existed, such a practice could not be countenanced.

"PROPAGANDA," SAYS PADEREWSKI.
BY ALEXANDER S. JONES, United News Staff Correspondent.
Chicago, March 21.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, former premier of Poland, branded the "official figure" of the plebiscite in Upper Silesia, giving that valuable territory to Germany by two or three votes over his own land.

"You have heard of German propaganda," he asked, smiling a sly smile. "This is some more of it." He said. "This is pure German propaganda. The ballot boxes, I will venture, have not even been opened yet. The people only voted yesterday. How could they know the result of this vote in detail? It is absurd and ridiculous. The voting boxes, being taken to central places now, where I see that the officials vote with two districts missing, is $76,000 to $89,000, and that in Kreutzbuch the Germans polled 421,000 and we polled 2,800. I never heard of the Kreutzbuch district, and I am fairly familiar with the Polish districts, like Pless, are included in this total."

"As I say, this information came from Berlin. It is German propaganda. I cannot say what the final outcome of the plebiscite will be, but I know that these figures are German figures, and wholly impossible."

"Besides, even if Poland has lost in the voting, this does not give Upper Silesia to Germany. This is for the information of the allied commissioners at Paris, who will draw the line dividing the territory. They may be guided by it or they may ignore it. We shall see what the allied commission announces the real vote and takes action."

GERMANS CLAIM BIG VICTORY.
Berlin, March 21.—Germany won an overwhelming victory in the plebiscite held in Upper Silesia yesterday to determine the future national status of that region, according to official returns received here. Two districts were still missing at 9 o'clock this morning, but the count showed 876,000 votes had been cast for Germany and 389,000 for Poland.

TO SUPPRESS ARMY INTERVENTION.
Czechoslovakia, March 21.—Czech forces in Upper Silesia will promptly suppress any effort on the part of the Polish army to override the decision in yesterday's plebiscite, or to anticipate the action of the council of ambassadors in Paris, General Lerond, head of the inter-allied plebiscite commission, told the Associated Press today. He said that the Poles had been concentrating an army on the Silesian frontier were wholly without foundation.

Reports that 30,000 Polish troops were marching toward the border have been current here. A motor trip along the Polish frontier showed the presence of the usual Polish sentries, but there were virtually no troops on the Silesian side of the border. It might be possible that a number of troops or civilians could suddenly cross the frontier, but this was little sympathy held out for a reduction in wages for this class of labor.

FAIL TO AGREE.
Houston, Texas, March 21.—Officials of the Gulf coast lines and representatives of various crafts at the Monday afternoon service, Dr. Dixon delivered a stirring appeal on "The Touches of God," in which he sought to correlate the thought processes of the human brain with manifestations of the divine being, and to demonstrate God's touch with all things material. Dr. Dixon for forty-five years has been associated with important pastors of the United States and England, being pastor of St. George's Tabernacle at London for eight years, which included the four years of the war.

London Minister Giving Addresses at Tabernacle

Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, eminent divine of London, who is in the city, together with Dr. Len G. Broughton and Dr. C. Dixon of New York city, attending the 20th annual Bible conference, which opened Sunday at the Baptist Tabernacle, delivered an impressive address Monday night, taking as his subject "The Cross—the Central Fact of Christianity."

Connecting his subject with well-known verses of the Bible, Dr. Morgan developed the theme of Christianity to a profound analysis of its fundamental requisites, dealing with the philosophy of Christ in His primary intent of baptism with specific application to man's intransigent soul by fire, making a distinction between the mere external application of water in baptism as set forth by his interpretation of those Biblical passages from which he drew the theme of his sermon.

Other important lectures were made during the day, and by Dr. Broughton during the morning period. Important changes in the daily program were announced by Dr. Ham in that Dr. Broughton's morning service has been changed from 9 o'clock to 10 o'clock, with Dr. Morgan speaking at the 11 o'clock hour. Dr. Dixon will continue to lecture at the 7:30 o'clock hour.

Dr. Jasper C. Massee, nationally known Bible student and lecturer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is expected to arrive in the city early this morning, and will address the conference throughout the ten days' session at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Dr. Massee has been an outstanding figure in Bible conference work for a number of years and his lectures are anticipated with a great deal of interest.

At the Monday afternoon service, Dr. Dixon delivered a stirring appeal on "The Touches of God," in which he sought to correlate the thought processes of the human brain with manifestations of the divine being, and to demonstrate God's touch with all things material.

Dr. Dixon for forty-five years has been associated with important pastors of the United States and England, being pastor of St. George's Tabernacle at London for eight years, which included the four years of the war.

The committee on arrangements of the conference has provided an interesting musical program for the session, which includes all of the day services. Music is furnished by the Tabernacle choir, composed of a number of excellent voices.

One of the most important features of the conference is the plan being carried out by the women of the meeting, whereby lunch will be served at the noon hour in the church, thus relieving the women of the burden of preparing lunch for the men.

Officials of the meeting have deplained the enthusiastic attendance upon the lectures. It is said that the Tabernacle has never before been so successful in any similar one held in the nineteen years since the Tabernacle was erected. A large number of out-of-town people have been attracted to Atlanta by the meeting, and it is expected that the church will be filled to capacity during the remaining days of the conference.

PIRKLE'S RELEASE ON BOND URGED

Petition for Freedom for Prisoner, Accused of Children's Murder, Mailed to Judge.

A petition for the release on bond of "Mad Pirkle," charged with the murder of little Mary Frances and Madge Gulm, was mailed to Judge John B. Hutcheson, who is at Covington, Monday night by W. Paul Carpenter, of Atlanta, who associated with Frank Hooper, defended the man in the case which resulted in a mistrial Saturday after the jury had remained out twenty-four hours.

Judge Hutcheson will receive the petition Tuesday morning, and will probably sign the order either for the man to be released on bond, or to be held in custody until the next trial.

Pirkle's trial last week consumed four days and attracted much interest throughout the state. The jury, at the time the mistrial was declared, stood eight for a verdict of murder with recommendation for mercy, and four for involuntary manslaughter. It is said. The two little children were killed when Pirkle's car struck them on East Lake drive in Decatur on New Year's eve.

according to W. P. Bruce, general manager.
The conference will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Officials of the road were rather reticent tonight about what transpired at the conference, other than to say that a specific proposition was made to the employees with regard to the proposed reduction.

A fragmentary canvass of the representatives of the railroad employees tonight indicated that there is little sympathy held out for a reduction in wages for this class of labor.

ATTERBURY SCORES RAIL LABOR RULES

Pennsylvania Vice President Vigorously Answers Charges Hurlled by Union Counsel Before Board.

Chicago, March 21.—Brigadier General W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and former chairman of the railway executives' labor committee, took an emphatic stand against national agreements, which he was accused of "misunderstanding," in a heated all-day cross-examination before the railroad labor board today.

Questioning by Frank P. Walsh, counsel for the unions, brought vigorous replies from General Atterbury, and time and again the witness replied by cross-questioning his interrogator. Charges that the union leaders did not really represent the employees were hurled across the table as the general took the stand against all rules of national application.

The gist of General Atterbury's testimony today may be summarized thus: Rules should be negotiated between officials of the roads and their own employees, across the conference table, "like a game of poker."

The eight-hour day could not be universally applied to all employees, especially train service men, because the Lord didn't build the railroad that way.

Hourly Basis Rapped.
The establishment of the hourly basis of shop work has destroyed the energy and initiative of shop employees, especially train service men, because the Lord didn't build the railroad that way.

National rules constituted a dog collar around the neck of the railroad, which would be free to negotiate their own rules with their own employees "the minute the dog collar was cut."

General Atterbury was referring to a cartoon from a labor paper representing national agreements as a collar on a dog labeled "railroads," and led by "Labor." Two charges against union officials were laid down by the general in the climax of the day's testimony. He testified that although the national agreements had the object of employing more men, he "was not a friend of my men than any of the union men at this table."

The declaration brought forth a query whether General Atterbury represented the section hands of his road.

Men Not Represented.
"No, but you do not. Those men are not represented here," the general replied.

Shortly afterward, in a discussion of specific rules, General Atterbury testified that the rules were interpreted clearly and words defined. Mr. Walsh said he thought the ordinary meaning of words was not what he meant.

"Yes, but when it comes to devising means and methods of getting money out of a rule, you gentlemen are the most expert of any I know."

"These rules appear very clear to me, General Atterbury," Mr. Walsh said.

"That's because you don't know anything about them," the witness replied.

For Direct Conferences.
General Atterbury maintained throughout the day that no set of rules could be negotiated which would have a national application, and declared the only satisfactory way of agreeing on rules was by direct conference between the officers who would apply the rules and the employees whom they would affect.

In his testimony General Atterbury said that he had always been able to negotiate with his employees, but that the national agreements had placed a dog collar on the roads, and that it was impossible to confer with the Pennsylvania employees because of the interference of union officials. He read from several American Federation of Labor bulletins, which, he said, "throttled the employees."

General Atterbury read a statement earlier in the day which declared the American people had reached "the parting of the ways."

Upholds Union Idea.
"No more serious question confronts us today," he said. "One road leads to government ownership, nationalization, Plumb planism and syndicalism—the other road to industrial peace and the continuation of that individual initiative, energy and responsibility which is peculiarly American. The signboard on one road is 'National Property Agreements,' on the other road, 'Negotiate directly with your own employees.'"

General Atterbury declared he had no fight with organized labor as such, and said that within reasonable limits it is a healthy spur-his instructions to appear in defense of the Newlands act, which the employees assert was violated when the reduction order was issued, late Monday afternoon, and stated he would be present at the hearing.

Men Are Marking Time.
Val Fitzpatrick, one of the railway union officials, stated the employees were marking time while their interest centered on the two hearings, and that the action of Attorney General Daugherty in ordering the district attorney to appear in defense of section 9, of the transportation act, was being received with optimism by the unions.

The controversy over the question of wages between Colonel Bugg, as president of the road, and the men, dates back to December 29, 1920, when Colonel Bugg announced that because of a big operating deficit, the railroad would be forced to reduce the wages of all its employees.

The men at once signed their unwillingness to accept the reduction, and the matter was taken to the United States railroad labor board, then sitting in Chicago.

Two hearings before the board resulted finally in the wage board declining to assume jurisdiction over the matter, remaining it to the railroad.

Shortly after this action the road was thrown into the hands of a receiver by the creditor, and following the appointment of Colonel Bugg as receiver, the matter was taken to the United States railroad labor board, then sitting in Chicago.

Reminiscent.

The Liberty Advertiser says that the sight of a little negro girl on the street recently with a loaf of bread on her head recalled the old days when the black mamies carried baskets of clothes and buckets on their heads and recalled how the same mamies used to carry three buckets of water at a time, one on the head and one in each hand.

This talk was thought out at a thousand feet above the Atlantic ocean, in a modern air boat. There were ten other air-craft here and mine—and the name of the air cruiser was "Columbus!"

I thought of that other Columbus which came in a boat hardly larger than this, over the same waters just a little while ago. I was almost spellbound with feelings.

We were in the air for nearly two hours and traveled about 100 miles.

Below us the waters sparkled in the sunlight and their various blues fascinated me. Shadows from overhanging clouds touched the face of the green here and there while we went forward so smoothly and delightfully.

Scores of flying fish skipped like anis from wave to wave. Now and then a big steamer would be seen below—hardly larger to us than the boats we used to sail in mother's tub.

But all the time that wonderful blue—so far as could see—

There was the same comfort as is to be found on a great ocean liner. We touched an island for lunch and then shot out into the ocean and rose again!

And as we came to our home port and a great city, I would see the big boats of the harbor almost step up to greet us.

Then we reached for the arms of the ocean again—and the trip was over.

I thought of the Wrights and the other pioneers who made the great achievement possible. To them must go the glory.

The air flyer has passed the experiment stage. It now enters its great place as a co-operative force in the progress of the world, and in the distribution of ideas, and in the uplifting of the nations.

Soon great air ships will span every part of this little globe of ours!

itative Eminence, frowns on Fashion

This Is Our Birthday

This is the thirty-fourth anniversary in our business life. We like to indulge in a little retrospection on our birthday. A jewelry business is built upon confidence—because there are few people who have the necessary knowledge of gauging values of the goods sold by jewelers. Comparatively speaking, there are but few jewelry establishments as large as ours. It is therefore natural for us to be proud of the success we have achieved.

We are frequently told by our customers and friends that our name stands for Quality and Satisfaction—that our name means as much to them as the "Sterling" stamp on silver.

It is of course a pleasure to enjoy the reputation of being the largest and oldest merchants in this section selling diamonds, gold, platinum and silver, and on this, our thirty-fourth, anniversary, we want to thank the people of Atlanta and the south for the valued patronage which has made our success possible.

A continuance of your patronage is solicited, with the assurance that your every purchase will receive appreciative service which we are daily trying to improve.

Copies of our twenty-sixth annual catalogue and booklet, "Facts About Diamonds," will be sent anyone complimentary upon request.

PACKER CONFEREES
SILENT ON ISSUE

Davis Meeting in Washington Adjourns for Day, After Lengthy Conference on Labor Dispute.

Washington, March 21.—After spending three hours and a half in conference with Secretaries Davis, Hoover and Wallace, representatives of the five leading packers and of their union employees, adjourned late today to meet tomorrow afternoon. None of those participating in the conference would make any statement as to the progress of the initial efforts of the new administration in mediating a major labor dispute.

Representatives of the packers and of the employees on committee out of the conference stated that the labor secretary also sent word by his private secretary to newspaper men that he had intended to say something at the conference, and announced that the discussions would be resumed tomorrow following the Tuesday cabinet meeting probably at 3 o'clock, but earlier if possible.

The fact that there are to be no morning conferences was taken to indicate that Secretary Davis might bring the matter as revealed at today's preliminary meeting to the attention of President Harding and other members of the cabinet. The recess also will allow the representatives of both sides to confer with their advisors or ask for further instructions. Secretary Davis remained in conference after the session with Messrs. Keck, E. P. Marsh and Howell Davis, of the labor department, and with Mr. E. J. Connelley, who sat in the conference by virtue of the fact that they had a part in the agreement of 1919 by the packers and their employees to extend the Alschuler agreement of 1917.

The packers' representatives, Carl Meyer and James L. Condon, stated their case at 4 o'clock, having been interrupted by few questions from the employees. Whether the greater part of the remaining hour and a half was consumed by the employees in presenting their side was not indicated. None of the conferees would indicate whether there was a change of position on the question at issue might be adjusted and a strike averted. Secretary Davis heard the employees' side of the controversy at 11 o'clock after both sides assembled and the meeting had been adjourned until 2 o'clock. The labor secretary in granting a private hearing to the packers' case, gave them the same privilege he had previously given Messrs. Condon and Meyer.

WEST POINT ACADEMY
FOUNDING CELEBRATED

More Than Thirty Army Officers Gather at Banquet Monday.

More than thirty army officers, graduates of the United States Military Academy at West Point, gathered at the Capital City Club Monday night for a dinner in commemoration of the founding of the school March 17, 1807. These banquets became an annual affair and the sections held on or near that anniversary. The session Monday night was presided over by Major Basil Bucke Edwards, toastmaster, and among the principal speakers were General John F. Morrison, commander of the fourth army corps, with headquarters at Fort Meade, and General Johnson Hagood. General Morrison, who was the oldest West Point graduate present at the dinner, having been commissioned from the school in 1831, gave an interesting account of the methods and activities of the institution at the time of his attendance there. He delivered a most interesting and instructive outline of the changes in the curriculum at the school which have been brought about by the devices and methods of warfare developed during the recent war. Good Samaritan
Claims Stranger
Stole His Auto

The temporary loss of a fine automobile as a result of offering an unlooked-for ride from Tampa to Jacksonville was the experience of O. P. Morton, a Cincinnati business man who wintered in Florida, as told in Atlanta Monday.

Morton's story was related to United States Commissioner W. C. Carter when Hector Beaudon and Frank Waggoner were arraigned by agents of the department of justice and held in bond on $5,000 for stealing the car in Jacksonville and bringing it across the state line into Georgia. The men were arrested in Atlanta Saturday.

According to Morton, he was approached by Beaudon at Tampa as far as Jacksonville, and that he intended to ship his car the remainder of the way home. After arriving in Jacksonville, he stated, he stored his car overnight in a garage, and charged Beaudon with taking it from the storage establishment. Neither defendant made a statement before Commissioner Carter, and waived preliminary trial. Waggoner is charged with having aided Beaudon in taking the machine from the garage.

MUSCOGEE COUNTY
CITIZENS PLANNING
JUVENILE COURT

Muscogee county is the seventh of the "big eight" counties to take action toward securing a special juvenile court, according to news just received in Atlanta. Having found its juvenile delinquency problem rapidly increasing because of the growing population, interested citizens of the county were undaunted by the fact that the county board of commissioners, after a long session for consultation regarding the problem, and Miss Rhoda Kaufman, assistant secretary, who went down to Columbus last week, called attention to the state law by which any county with more than 35,000 population could, by two successive recommendations by the grand jury, secure a special juvenile court. As a result, the City Federation of Women's Clubs, at an enthusiastic meeting, passed resolutions calling on the grand jury to recommend the establishment of a special juvenile court, and further action was placed in the hands of the child welfare committee of the city federation. This committee has enlisted the interest of churches and civic organizations who will all appear before the grand jury and ask that it recommend the creation of a special court.

R. O. CAMPBELL COAL CO.
HAS "FISKLOCK" BRICK

In addition to the connection of building brick and hollow building tile recently announced, the R. O. Campbell Coal company, of Atlanta, is now handling the economical and popular "Fisklock" brick—not only through its severest yards, but in carload lots direct to customers from the Macon, Ga., kilns. "Fisklock" is lock-joint (really a tongue and groove) brick, having ample air spaces or wells like hollow building tile, and it makes the strongest, driest wall. Further, it is extremely economical in that, as compared with ordinary hard brick, it saves 40 per cent in the labor cost of laying, and 25 per cent of the cost of mortar; and, to carry the comparison further, it is the size of two brick, costs but the price of two brick, yet is stronger than three brick. Finally, it bonds with brick or face brick and may be used in walls 8 inches or thicker.

As the "Fisklock" can be shipped immediately, and in the same cars with ordinary building brick or hollow building tile—if so desired—very large business is being prepared for by the Campbell company, which holds that the "Fisklock" undoubtedly fills a long-felt want; that its use practically results in a hollow-building brick constructed at less than the cost of an ordinary brick-constructed building.

The growth of the county has largely centered in the newspaper that began its fortyeth year this week. It has always taken the side of the farmer and the citizen generally are congratulating the editors for their notable work.

MATEWAN ACCUSED
CLEARED BY JURY

Sixteen Defendants Discharged When Not Guilty Verdict Is Returned. Held on Other Indictments.

Williamson, W. Va., March 21.—The sixteen defendants tried in connection with the death of Albert C. Felts, who was killed during the Matewan gunfight last May 19 were today found not guilty by a jury in the county jail and received their discharge. The defendants were formally discharged by Judge R. D. Bailey, presiding, but were remanded to jail pending bond arrangements on all pending indictments charging the men with having been implicated in the deaths of six other private detectives killed with Felts.

The trial consumed forty-six days. News of the acquittal was shouted by a large group of miners standing at a window outside the courtroom, and the announcement was received with enthusiasm. Wives and relatives of the Matewanians stood on the porch of the county jail and cheered the men as they were released. Sports and Averara Boer for Title Tonight

Edited By
Cliff Wheatley

AND THEN HE TOOK UP GOLF

Miller's Mauler Is Confident He Can Put Crusher On Champ; Budd to Battle Fred Boorde

By BUZZY WOODRUFF.

Neither Jake Abel, southern welterweight champion, nor Larry Averara, who hopes to knock the crown from whatever dose of thought Jake possesses since becoming a haberdasher, did a lick of work yesterday, unless exercise given their jaws in conversation and mastication can be called labor. Each figured quite reasonably, too, that he had plenty of work cut out for him tonight at the Auditorium when they meet in the ten-round windup of Promoter Miller's show.

And according to their announced plans both the boxers and the customers are in for a busy evening. Jake wants to get back to haberdashing, he says, but he doesn't want to mingle with shirts and neckties until Larry Averara is so convincingly beaten that no one will have the nerve to speak of him and Larry in the same tone of voice.

Predicts Bad Beating.
"There'll be no return match," said Jake. "I intend to go out tonight to show the fans that this match never should have been made. I am going to give them the worst beating he has ever taken or ever will take—and then once and for all I'm out of the ring."
"I accepted this match for the one reason that Averara has said that the reason I retired was that I feared to meet him in the ring. Well, I'll silence that talk for good. I am in perfect condition for the fight, was never better in my life. I believe the rest I had has done me a world of good. I feel stronger and fresher than I've been in years, and if you don't believe it, ask Billy Hooper. After our workout Saturday Billy told me to get another sparring partner. He had enough. My friends can rest assured of this thing—if Averara comes in for a fight, I'll win by a knockout."

Likewise, Averara exudes confidence. "I know what a victory over Abel will mean for me," he said yesterday.

JACKETS GET PRIMED FOR CINCINNATI
With the season's opener but a few days off now the Georgia Tech baseballers hit things up at Friday night Monday night. The University of Cincinnati comes to town Friday afternoon for a brace of games and in anticipation of these contests, the Yellow Jackets are planning to work overtime every day this week.

Coach Clay has had his men at the game now about five weeks and has been able to whip them into wonderful shape in that time. While he has been cautious about letting his pitchers out loose to any extent, he has brought them to the point now where they can go into a fray and stand the grind of full line innings.

The whole varsity squad is in practically the same condition and the Tech nine is really about two weeks or three ahead of the ball season. The weather of the past two weeks has been ideal for the work, too, and the White and Gold crew can have no alibi to offer as regards training before or after the Cincy scraps.

Captain Asbury Out.
Captain Asbury continues on the hospital list and is expected to be a week or even more. The outfielder has been in the game since the first game of the season, but he has never been able to get his batting better than his fielding. He is a steady player in every practice game of the year and it is possible that he will play many a varsity game this season.

Behind the bat, two dependables in the line-up are Ed and Ed. Ed caught a number of games in the 19th campaign and really takes the lead now as first string backstop.

Pitchers Look Good.
O'Leary and Thompson continue to be the best of the box. They both pitched Collins and Allison last Saturday and again today. O'Leary out of the game and his fast portside delivery is likely to prove the undoing of the Ohioans in one of the coming games. Thompson's work has been exceptionally good and he has been in the line-up in any of the practice games.

The Jackets work out every day at 3:30 p. m. and don't get in till sundown. Kid Clay is especially anxious to make a good showing tonight. The latter downed Tennessee last Saturday, tackled Auburn yesterday and again today. He is in Georgia for a brace of games and then wind up here. These several games may give them an edge on the Jackets, but there is not a Tech man that can't beat any of the best in the country.

"TWO AND THREE" "PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER" WITH DUGS DAER

MR. HARDING has been a busy bird since he inherited the first lather in the land. The job of being president is pretty much like a position as malingering clerk. He gets a large number of letters every day.

SOME OF THE letter writers violate ethics by writing on both sides of the stamp. All of 'em want jobs or want to give Warren nothing for something.

AN ILLINOIS PUDDLE jumper wants to give Gamaliel a condensed-milk can. It can be stable in a shoe-box and put out to graze on a rubber plant.

A CHICAGO BLACKJACK evader offers to pay the first installment on a thousand payment one-flight up suit with the lather intact.

A NEW YORK TAX dodger is willing to present the president with a thousand dollars provided Warren raises fifty thousands more by popular subscription.

A CONNECTICUT FRECKLE collector comes through with a munificent offer of a private horse car for the president's personal use. A man in South Bend offers to allow the president to look up numbers in his telephone book any time the train stops at South Bend.

SOME MISFIREN patriot from Alabama presents the president with a silver-handled buttonhook for his shoe. There must be some mistake. While civilization makes great strides forward, it seems impossible that anybody in this broad and narrow land can think that our president wears button shoes. Possibly the mill of winter and early spring have left rural skills in very muddy condition.

ALL OF THESE offers are without strings. All the donors want in exchange is a job within radio distance of a government pay check. Gamaliel has declined most of 'em with a frugal amount of thanks.

IF YOU HAVE anything you can't use it's the correct detail to present it to the president. He can't use it either. But you won't miss it when you come home in the dark and start jumping over all the things in the vestibule.

NOTED SQUADS ON PETRELS' PLAYING LIST

BY LAUREN CLARK.
Oglethorpe will open her 1921 baseball season with the University of Georgia March 29 at Ponce de Leon.

Coach Anderson has arranged a mighty good schedule this year and his gang shows prospects of making a mighty good record for the institution. A schedule carrying Centre, University of Michigan and University of Georgia, all of which are in the top of the college ranks, is some schedule for any college team.

Harvard's First Appearance.
This year will mark the first appearance of Harvard diamond team in the Sunny South. The easterners will be coached by Coach Pratt, who ranks with the champions in the east and the result of the Oglethorpe-Harvard game will give the fans some idea of how the Petrels would line up against the great team.

Michigan will invade the south for the first time since their inception of Coach Slater, now star big leaguer, and played the University of Georgia some six years ago. The Michigan team is coached by Derrill Pratt, a former member of the New York Yankees.

The same die composed of some of the best swatters in these parts. David and Thaxton will play left. Both men are mighty good; in fact, they rate so close together neither one has been selected and most probably will not be until the Georgia game. Carlisle has clinched center. He is captain of the team and one of the hardest hitting fielders in college baseball. Simms will be the right fielder. He is no baby with the willow, either. This combination in the gardens of Ponce de Leon should be enough to make opposing pitchers shiver if the rest of the team never touches a bat.

The men named above will start the first game of the season. Besides the Petrels, Oglethorpe has developed prep players of last year that have fought their way to the varsity squad and are still sticking.

Jake Morris, of Boys' High, is showing a mighty good record for the season. He has plenty of stuff with in prep baseball, but with the careful coaching of Coach Slater, he is showing a mighty good record for the season.

Bob Mooney, of Peacock, and Corrie, of the Petrels, are also making good. The Cadet team, is also going good.

PREP LEAGUE NOTES

BY LAUREN CLARK.

Marist has at last given out some dope on prospects for a 1921 ball team. The Ivy street aggregation seems to be in a bad line so far as letter men are concerned. Only three men of the last year squad have turned out for practice.

Dorsch, Bradley and Murphy are the only men that played on the Marist team last year that will be seen in action again this season.

Each team believes that he can develop a new team that will prove able to cope with the best in the league.

Dorsch and Bradley will most probably do the twirling for the team. Mathers and Murphy are out for catcher, Murphy having a slight edge. Logarmarino and Dorsch are both out for the hot corner also.

When one is in the box the other will be seen on third. Doyle has short clinched.

In the outfield Coach Bean has four men that are showing up well. Martin, Sims, Hirsch and Madden are the candidates.

The Fulton High team is also rounding into form and Coach Henderson believes that he has a team that will be a contender for the title of the second division.

THE CONSTITUTION IN THE STOCK MARKET

General Asphalt Pool Again Marks Up Price

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, March 21.—The stock market today witnessed a sharp bidding up of specialties during the early trading, which resulted in heavy profit-taking and a reaction in prices in the afternoon. On the advance in the oils, motors and certain specialties led the advance. The rails were heavy, as was the steel and certain equipment stocks. American International was firm, while Atlantic Gulf was heavy. The leather stocks scored good gains on belief that the open weather will cause a renewed demand for shoes.

The feature of the market was the ease with which the pool operating in General Asphalt marked the price up to 64, which is 17 points above the low price of last Tuesday. This pool is supposed to be the same that forced the price of the 71 in January when rumors were circulated that the Royal Dutch interests were negotiating for the company's property in South America. The rumor was successful in advancing the stock, but Royal Dutch denied that such an operation was underway. The pool, however, circulated the same story during the early hours today and even though there is nothing in it, it was successful in causing the shorts to cover their commitments, resulting in the share advance. There was a reaction later, however, when the short covering ceased.

The foreign exchange markets continue strong, while time money continues to be quoted around 7 per cent. There is virtually no change in the call money situation, although it is expected that easier rates are not far distant. Little attention is paid to the rate of 5 per cent quoted for call loans in the outside market, as it is stated that these loans are renewed the next day at the prevailing renewal rate which is generally 7 per cent.

The annual report of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company for 1930 shows a decided improvement over the report issued for 1929. The statement for last year shows a surplus after charges and federal taxes of $1,258,806 as compared with a deficit of $577,646 in the previous year.

Reports coming to hand indicate a decided improvement in the building industry in this city. The building construction within the boundaries of Greater New York show an increase of 61 per cent in value thus far this year as compared with the corresponding period last year. It is also stated that the movement of materials has shown a corresponding gain.

The actual showing of the local clearing house banks on Saturday showed a large decrease in surplus, but this was offset by the better showing in the local federal bank. This in connection with the cables on Saturday that a complete turnover of the soviet government's policies in regard to free trade had been approved by the communist congress was expected to create a better tone to the stock market, but during the early dealings there was considerable irregularity, due to profit-taking on the part of those who had bought stocks at the low prices in his early days of the week.

Although the market for railroad stocks was somewhat irregular today as a result of the news from Washington that the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities has a new plan for economy through the establishment of a new federal body as a way out of the present transportation, it was the opinion in Wall Street that it is a little too early to confidently say what effect this plan as formulated by S. Davies Warfield may have on the general market situation. The plan seems to bring out the danger of the present situation, but in the opinion of some people in the street, as well as some of the railroad executives, seems to be that this is the proper time to emphasize all the bad features of the railroad situation so that the authorities down at the capital may have no misgivings as to the real need for relief.

The adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, which was scheduled for tomorrow, will again be adjourned for a few days, due, it is stated, to the need for more time to carry on negotiations with creditors. This meeting appears to hold a record for adjournment, as it is carried on long enough they may see enough improvement in the trade to greatly relieve the company's financial strain.

Reports are in circulation in banking quarters that there may be a consolidation of the Willys-Overland and the Willys corporation due, it is stated, to relieve the companies of the present financial problems. The greatest problems now facing these companies is their bank loans, which have been extended by the banks. In connection with the report, it is also stated that the merger of the two companies and the banks continue to extend the loans, the improvement in automobile demand may also help these concerns as well as many others in this same class which are confronted with financial difficulties.

VERDICT TO STAND IN COTTON FRAUDS

Petition of Convicted Defendants in Alabama Case Denied by Supreme Court Monday.

Washington, March 21.—The supreme court today denied the petition of D. H. Riddle, and others, convicted in the "Alabama cotton fraud case," for a writ of mandamus to United States District Judge Grubb, to correct the record of their trial so as to show that the verdict was reached by a jury of twelve.

Riddle and six other defendants were charged with having obtained money under false pretenses through selling inferior cotton as being of higher grade. Their objection to the alleged defect of the record was entered in order that an appeal might be instituted. Sentences ranging from thirteen to thirty-nine months were imposed upon those convicted, with a fine of $10,000 in the case of Riddle, and $1,000 each in those of his co-defendants.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F.M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

For thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, 15c and 30c. —(adv.)

Attacks Validity Of Dry Amendment From New Angle

Washington, March 21.—An entirely new attack on the validity of the prohibition amendment, based upon the requirement that it be ratified within seven years, was made today in the supreme court.

The attack was made in a brief filed by counsel for J. J. Dillon, of San Francisco, charged with violation of the prohibition enforcement act. Dillon is seeking a writ of habeas corpus.

The provision attacked was offered by Sen. Senator Harding when the amendment was being proposed in the senate.

The section, making the entire article inoperative unless ratified within seven years, the brief asserts, specifically violates Article 5 of the constitution, which gives congress no power to impose a limit on ratification, or to otherwise attempt to control what the legislatures of the states shall do in their deliberations.

LEONARD WOOD LEAVES ON PHILIPPINE TASK

Major General Is Nominated University of Pennsylvania Head by Trustees.

Washington, March 21.—Having received final instructions as to his Philippine mission from Secretary Weeks, Major General Leonard Wood left Washington tonight for San Francisco, where he will board ship April 2 for Manila.

General Wood, who is accompanied by his wife and two children, will continue to serve as commander of the sixth army corps while engaged in carrying out the Philippine mission. He will be accompanied on the Philippines by Colonel F. R. McCoy, Lieutenant Colonel Gordon Johnson, Major Peter Bouditch, with another O. C. Wood, his son, who will serve as aide de camp.

General Wood, it was said at the war department, will continue to serve as commander of the sixth army corps while engaged in carrying out the Philippine mission. He will be accompanied on the Philippines by Colonel F. R. McCoy, Lieutenant Colonel Gordon Johnson, Major Peter Bouditch, with another O. C. Wood, his son, who will serve as aide de camp.

NOMINATED AS UNIVERSITY HEAD.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 21.—Major General Leonard Wood was nominated today as the head of the University of Pennsylvania, at the meeting of the board of trustees.

The nomination was in accordance with the statutes of the university. General Wood's name cannot be voted upon until the next regular meeting of the trustees on April 18. It is understood he will be elected at that time.

In nominating General Wood, he was referred to as the coming "head" of the university, rather than as provost, as the head of the institution has been known since its foundation in 1740.

Although no statement was made on the subject, it is known that the trustees are considering reorganization of the university administration by which one man will be the general administrator, with another more nearly representative of the educational side. A resolution adopted today would indicate Acting Provost Josiah H. Penniman will be chosen as educational administrator.

JAIL IN VIRGINIA HELD FROM MOB

Sheriff Refuses Keys and Masked Men Are Unable to Force Entrance or Seize Negro.

Danville, Va., March 21.—A mob of masked men, with sledge hammers and crowbars, tried for two hours last night to break into the Halifax county jail at Houston in order to seize Joe Coleman, negro, held as a suspect in connection with the killing of Willie Riekman, a white man. Failing to gain access to the jail, the mob fired pistol volleys into the windows and dispersed. No one was injured.

A delegation of the attackers first demanded the keys to the jail. Sheriff Rice refused, and while the mob was hammering at the doors, he telephoned South Boston for help. The South Boston fire bell was rung and a hundred citizens were pressed into service and sent to Houston by automobile. The mob had dispersed when they arrived. Coleman will be removed today.

Lady Astor Helps Capture Man Who Threatens Her Life

Plymouth, England, March 21.—Lady Astor had an unpleasant encounter here Saturday when, as she was leaving her residence, a soldier halted her, made use of violent language and threatened to kill her. Realizing that a display of fear might be followed by an attack, Lady Astor sought for time and tried to get the man's name and address.

Her tactics were so successful that the soldier started to run, with his questioner in close pursuit. The chase led first to some stables and then to a public house, the soldier finally being caught and turned over to the police.

Lady Astor, however, expressed the wish that no proceedings be taken against the man.

Threat to Injure Famous Race Horse Brings Jail Term

Philadelphia, March 21.—Harry T. Lamey, of Chester, Pa., who threatened to harm Man o' War, Samuel D. Riddle's famous race horse, was sentenced today to three months in the Mercer county jail at Trenton, New Jersey.

Judge Dickinson, in the federal court here, said he was inclined to be lenient because Lamey pleaded guilty and also because the prosecution asked for only a year.

Lamey admitted he had written a letter to Mrs. Riddle, wife of the owner of the horse, threatening her and the horse with bodily harm if he was not paid $10,000. Lamey pleaded not guilty last Monday, but changed his plea today.

Lamey said he had not planned to force payment of the money, but did it only "for curiosity, to see what the Riddles would do."

Chicago, March 21.—A campaign by the Women's Christian Temperance union for strict Sunday observance, and against tobacco, is announced today by Miss Anna A. Gordon, national president, to start April 3. That week, the announcement says, will be made a week of prayer for the success of the campaign, and Sunday, April 10, is designated as Anti-Tobacco Sunday, when literature to be sent out to W. C. T. U. branches, churches, churches, schools and colleges, will be distributed.

Large signs, announcing the program for the campaign, are to be sent out soon. Among the violations of Sunday as a day of rest, the announcement stated that 400,000 persons now are working on Sunday in this country, and restrictions are to be sought on golfing, pleasure automobile driving, baseball, movies, theaters and dancing on Sunday in the campaign.

The murder occurred at Brownie's creek, about 18 miles from here. Mason was on duty at the time he was killed and was separated temporarily from the other officers of the posse.
